FOREWORD

The Chicago Cluster of Theological Schools, like similar clusters elsewhere in North America, introduces a new dimension to theological education. Its purpose is to capitalize on existing resources and also to develop new styles for improving the quality of our educational programs.

This purpose is not achieved by drawing up an impressive catalog of courses and faculty, counting library volumes, compiling statistics on students. Whether the Cluster is accomplishing what it sets out to accomplish depends on the actual utilization of its combined resources, in other words, on the actual interchange of students, instructors and books.

The accompanying information is intended to facilitate that interchange. It hopes to make the existing resources of the eight member schools of the Chicago Cluster both psychologically and effectively more available to the student. These Announcements will assist the student in planning his year's program in consultation with his academic advisor.

As the result of coordinated planning by faculty members of the various disciplines, much unnecessary duplication of courses has been eliminated. Courses in the same subject matter have in some instances been staggered in different quarters and locations to make it easier for the student to attend courses which are required or especially interest him.

The complete hourly schedule of classes found in the 1972-73 Cluster Announcements will make it easier for the student to plan his entire year's work. More courses have been scheduled as single-three hour or twice-weekly sessions and in the evening in order to cut down travel time between schools and thus facilitate cross-registration.

Students should consult the catalogs of the individual schools for the respective course descriptions. A number of copies of each school's catalog are available in every Cluster registrar's office. Information regarding special Cluster programs in Science and Theology, Communications, World Mission and Christian Education is supplemented by a series of special brochures. The reader's attention is directed to the information regarding the Chicago Center of Black Religious Studies on page 33 of these Announcements.

The Chicago Cluster of Theological Schools

BELLARMINE SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY

A theological-pastoral center with a threefold aim: (1) preparing students for ordination in the Roman Catholic Church; (2) continuing education of priests already in the ministry; (3) creative theological research. The majority of the students are members of the Society of Jesus (Jesuits). Others than Jesuits can be admitted. Each student is reviewed and evaluated in terms of his previous work and future goals. Bellarmine is a federated school of Loyola University of Chicago.

President Robert E. Murray, S.J.
Dean Michael Montague, S.J.
Admissions Officer Robert J. Ochs, S.J.

Degree Programs:

BETHANY THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

Bethany education is shaped by concerns for such areas as peace, discipleship, true piety, and servanthood; seeks to provide a community of scholarship and faith where insistence upon academic excellence is balanced by concern for personal growth. Curricular innovations include colloquium groupings oriented toward the contexts of ministry and a credit-noncredit plan of grading.

President Paul M. Robinson
Dean Warren F. Groff
Registrar Evelyn Lady

ANNOUNCEMENTS

LIBRARY SERVICES

Enrollment in any Cluster school entitles the student to use the library services of all eight member schools. The combined Cluster library holdings of some 580,000 volumes offers the students one of the largest theological resources in the United States. The accessibility of these resources has been enhanced by the installation of a tele-type communications network and regular courier service among the libraries. If a desired title is not available in one library, an instant inquiry can be sent to all Cluster schools and an answer back within hours with delivery on the same or following day.

Each library has its particular strengths. These are outlined in the Cluster Library Manual along with other information regarding special collections, lending procedures and services. The Manual can be obtained from the circulation desk of any Cluster library. The student should present his ID card at the check-out desk when borrowing a book or periodical.

Under special arrangements, students may have access to the University of Chicago Divinity School library.

THEOLOGY AND SCIENCE

Established at Meadville/Lombard Theological School in 1964, the Center for Advanced Study in Theology and the Sciences conducts courses and seminars and guides research in the dialogue between theology and the sciences and technology. During the 1970-71 academic year, the Center in cooperation with other Cluster schools and University of Chicago Divinity School faculty members, offered a three course sequence on the theological implications of the ecology crisis. A similar interdisciplinary program was offered in 1971-72 under the general rubric of Christian Perspectives in Theology and Science.

The Center affords Cluster students an opportunity for study and research which is unique among American theological schools.

THE CENTER FOR STUDIES IN RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

Pastoral Teacher Education

The Center for Studies in Religious Education offers a program, Pastoral Teacher Education, for each quarter of the academic year. This program, after two years of research and experimentation, is a closely supervised teaching experience directed toward the functioning of the minister in the many educational aspects of contemporary ministry. Only eight (8) students are accepted for each quarter and May 15 of each year is the deadline for enrollment in the following academic year. After May 15 there can be no guarantee of acceptance or placement.

Students desiring to take PTE must consult their Academic Deans and the Center. Because of the intensity of the program, some 35 to 40 hours a week, the student will be limited to one other course at the most.

Brochures explaining the program in detail may be obtained from the Registrars or from the Center (Room 311) in the LSTC building. Phone: 363-2115 or 947-9737, Father Mainelli or Father Wierenga.

About The Center

Founded in 1965 by a group of Dominicans (Order of Preachers) interested in all aspects of the educational ministry of the church, the Center for Studies in Religious Education has since been independently incorporated in Illinois and has moved from Oak Park to Hyde Park and into offices at the Lutheran School of Theology. It is a "corporation not-for-profit conducting, sponsoring, and cooperating in research, study, teaching, writing, experimenting and consulting in the field of religious education on an inter-denominational basis."

The Center with a Danforth Grant sponsored a conference on the educational mission of the church in the Fall of 1970, bringing together from all major denominations recognized experts in the field of religious education. This conference developed and the Center staff has since refined the Pastoral Teacher Education model as a vehicle for the Center, its staff, associates and consultants to make a serious contribution to the renewal of religious education in the churches.

BROADCAST-FILM STUDY PROGRAM

In cooperation with the Association of Chicago Theological Schools (ACTS), Bethany Theological Seminary offers Cluster students a four-course program in television, broadcasting and film study as these communication media relate to today's ministry. Under the direction of Dr. Leroy E. Kennel and Mr. Truman D. Wiles, students are introduced to fundamental concepts and theories of mass communication and the use of sophisticated studio facilities and techniques. The program includes guest speakers, film study, student projects, field trips to Chicago radio and TV stations, group work--all directed to a more effective communication of the gospel message.

A descriptive brochure outlining the program in detail is available from Bethany Seminary or the Cluster Coordinator.

WORLD MISSION AND ECUMENICS

The special program in Mission Studies consists of courses, workshops, and a one week institute for missionaries on furlough to be held April 1-7, 1973. The program is designed to provide specialized theological and cultural preparation needed for an ordained minister or a lay missionary to serve in a culture other than his own, and to make students of theology generally aware of the worldwide mission of the church by giving them a deeper understanding of the dynamics of evangelization and community building.

Descriptions of the courses in World Mission and Ecumenics listed on page 19 - 20 of these Announcements as well as further information on the total program will be found in the special flyer The World Mission of the Church 1972-73.

THEOLOGICAL LANGUAGE COURSES

In addition to the sixteen Biblical language courses available to students in the regular course offerings, non-credit courses in German, French and Latin are projected for the Winter and Spring Quarters. The object of these courses will be to help the student in improving his reading knowledge of theological literature in these languages. A nominal fee will be charged.

THE CHICAGO CENTER FOR BLACK RELIGIOUS STUDIES (CCBRS)

The Chicago Center for Black Religious Studies was founded in the fall of 1970 under the auspices of the Association of Chicago Theological Schools (ACTS), and is now an independent corporation. The purpose of the Center is to educate people without regard to race in ecumenical theological education to serve and minister to those of the black ethos, and to encourage black persons to enter the Christian Ministry. The Chicago Cluster of Theological Schools cooperates with the Center in its program of providing learning experiences in Black Religious Studies. The Center is under the direction of the Reverend John R. Porter.

I. Intensives - - Two intensive weekend courses (three days, 48 hours) with sessions during the quarter are offered each academic quarter. These courses count for four credit hours for students who qualify through another accrediting institution such as a Cluster seminary. Some 150 faculty resources persons serve as guest lecturers and consultants in the intensives and seminars and are drawn from various seminaries, universities, colleges and community agencies and groups. Limited financial aid is available to students on application to the Center.
